Comments : HBsAg (Australia Antigen) Negative for HBsAg - No further testing needed.-- Borderline - All initially reactive or borderline samples should be retested and also by Immunochromatography.-- Reactive - All initially reactive or borderline samples should be retested and also by Immunochromatography.-- Summary: Detection of HBsAg in human serum or plasma indicates the presence of acute or chronic HBV infection. For Further confirmation test HBV DNA viral load.

 - No further testing needed.-- Borderline - All initially reactive or borderline samples should be retested and also by Immunochromatography.-- Reactive - All initially reactive or borderline samples should be retested and also by Immunochromatography.-- Summary: A positive result is recommended to be followed up by measuring HCV RNA or HCV antigen as markers of active infection.
